

Do you know
if your baby
or toddler is learning as well as he can?

FEBRUARY 2011

Has your baby learned to:

- 3-4 MONTHS: pay attention to faces nearby; hold a rattle and shake it; smile at familiar people
- 4-6 MONTHS: roll from tummy to back and back to tummy; pass a toy from hand-to-hand
- 6-9 MONTHS: play peek-a-boo and pat-a-cake; babble and laugh out loud; sit up without help
- 9-12 MONTHS: point at something to draw your attention toward it; pull to a stand; wave bye-bye
- 12-15 MONTHS: take turns rolling a ball; come when called by name; shake his head, "No"
- 15-18 MONTHS: nod head to mean "Yes"; push, pull and dump things out; try to talk and repeat words
- 18-24 MONTHS: carry a toy while walking; follow simple directions; say or imitate a 2 or 3 word sentence
- 24-30 MONTHS: use 3 or 4 word sentences ; eat without help; hold a crayon and scribble
- 30 MONTHS AND OLDER: sing simple songs; walk up and and down stairs; help with getting dressed

If you are concerned that your baby or toddler is not learning as well as he should, call Birth to Three.

Any child from birth to 34 months who is living in Connecticut can receive a FREE developmental evaluation. Anyone can make a referral, but if you are not the mom or dad, please speak with the family first. Evaluation, as well as any early intervention services for an eligible child, can be provided conveniently in your home or your child's day care.

The mission of the Birth to Three System is to strengthen the capacity of families to meet the developmental and health-related needs of their infants and toddlers who have delays or disabilities.

We'll help you to help your little one learn.

Call 1-800-505-7000 for more information from the Child Development Infoline, or refer on-line at www.birth23.org and click on "Referrals".
