VISION

The Connecticut Interagency Coordinating Council envisions a statewide system where families and providers collaborate in shared decision making. Grounded in integrity, we strive for equitable, respectful outcomes that strengthen children, families and communities.

MISSION

Through meaningful communication, effective collaboration, and shared responsibility, the Connecticut Interagency Coordinating Council advises and supports the Birth to Three system to ensure families:

-  have equal access to equitable services and opportunities:
-  are equipped with knowledge to support their child's development
-  and health
-  understand their rights and can confidently advocate for their child
-  can effectively communicate their child's strengths and needs
